How to Improve HEDIS® Scores

- Avoid missed opportunities by taking advantage of every office visit (including sick visits) to provide a well-care visit, immunizations and BMI value/percentile calculations.
- BMI values are a calculation based on the child's height and weight and should be calculated and documented at every visit.
- A sick visit and a well-care visit can be performed on the same day.
- Make sports physicals into well-care visits by performing and documenting the required elements and submitting appropriate codes.
- Medical records need to include the date when a health and developmental history and physical exam was performed and what health education/anticipatory guidance was given.
- Use standardized templates in charts and in EMRs that allow checkboxes for standard counseling activities.
